PERFORMERS

THE PINECONERS are New Jersey's favorite song birds. Their music about the Jersey Pines has been heard at many colleges and folk festivals, including the National Folk Festival in Washington, DC. They can be heard most Saturday nights at Albert Hall, Route 9, in Waretown.

RAY PARSONS is one of the finest country music singers in the business, with several recordings to his credit. Ray has "fronted" some of country music's most famous bands, and he was also a member of Bill Haley's Comets.

WHEELS hails from Burlington County, where their good time country music can be heard at various drinking establishments.

MERCE & ARLENE RIDGWAY live in Ocean County, ~~where~~ Merce is an exceptional composer, and his songs linger in the mind long after his guitar is put away. Arlene, in addition to singing, has turned her talents to assembling a Pine Woods Cook Book.

WACO works here at Whitesbog as a teacher and consultant. Here he's know as Burt Baldwin. He specializes in what he calls "forgotten songs of forgotten people."

PETE CURRY has worked as an advertising writer, music director for WRCP in Philadelphia, and now he's a staffer here at Whitesbog.

STEVE BYRNE from Pitman, NJ, on the edge of the Pine Barrens. Steve specializes in traditional blues and ragtime.

BRUCE STURTEVANT is well-known throughout the area as a folk singer, humorist, and long-time manager of the Perimeter Coffee House at Rutgers University.

LARRY WYBLE is a working man singing the workingman's song. Larry is a sincere person with a sensitive feeling for his music. Larry appears regularly at the Red Oak in Woodbury, New Jersey.

PHIL ANTHONY AND "MOLE IN THE GROUND" share a great love for Scots-Irish music and Appalachian tunes. These well seasoned musicians abide in the Philadelphia area.

PAT BLOISE a lover of the mandolin &acoustic guitar. Pat is a teacher from Millville and will accompany many musicians with his gentle melodies.

JO TYNON and her accompanists play a variety of folk music both traditional and contemporary. Jo's voice has been heard frequently in the east and she plays regularly in the Princeton Vicinity.

TEX, also known as RAY CARLSON - can be seen most often in the Burlington County area. He has appeared frequently on radio, including WJJZ, Mt. Holly.

DAN ARACO is an experienced sound technician who has worked many shows in the New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania area. DAN was sound engineer for Grover Washington, Jr.

BILL CONLEY'S SWAMP STOMPERS hails from the Upper Black Eddy area of Pennsylvania along the Delaware river. Bill is a native Ohioian and has played Country music for several years in the Great Lakes area. He will be assisted by Vern Warta and several other quality musicians.

DOLORES T. MAZURKEWICZ is a popular performer from the South Jersey area. A psychologist, formerly of Rutgers University, Dolores spends much of her time playing the bars, coffee houses, and colleges of the New York, Philadelphia and New Jersey locale.

JIM JABLONSKI has played often in the College circuit and is a mainstay at the Perimeter, Rutgers University's Coffee House. Jim's a magical finger picker.

BARRY ROBERTS is a South Jersey resident who swings the blues. He considers his work improvisational.

STEVE MAKLER is a feature writer for the Philadelphia Bullentin. Steve is a fine musician and follower of the blues as well as the country sounds of today. Steve, a Yale graduate, has performed in many gin joints from New Haven to Winston-Salem, North Carolina.